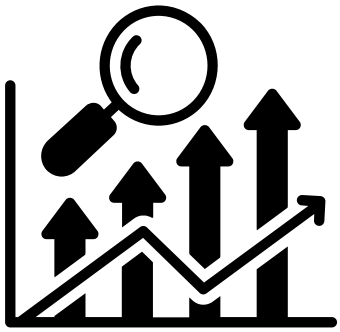
2022 MVPC Annual Meeting Summary

Mon Valley Providers Council

The MVPC Annual Meeting was held virtually in November. We were joined by Tim Delaney, President & CEO of the National Council of Nonprofits. Tim has been recognized as one of the NonProfit Times's Power & Influence Top 50 nonprofit leaders in the country 10 times – most recently in 2022. Tim shared emerging national trends that could impact the work of frontline nonprofits in the Mon Valley and beyond. He also discussed public policy issues and what they mean for nonprofits, so agencies can best position themselves for challenges and opportunities ahead. Over 100 MVPC member representatives attended this virtual event.



The Communicator is the official newsletter of the Mon Valley Providers Council (MVPC), an alliance of over 70 human service agencies serving more than 37 communities in the Mon Valley of Allegheny County. The MVPC is a program of the Human Services Center Mon Valley, a United Way Agency. To learn more about the MVPC, our member agencies, and their services, read this edition and visit our website at www.hscmonvalley.org.

We are happy to introduce you to the Human Services Center Mon Valley here and at our new digital home: hscmonvalley.org.

Of course, we're in the same handy location in Turtle Creek, delivering the same wonderful programs with same caring staff, but now have a name, logo, and message that more accurately reflects who we are: People powering people

Every day, we are inspired by the children, families and adults we serve. And every day, we are proud of the progress made, whether achieving financial stability, education or career goals, or making today better than yesterday.

Goodwill of Southwestern PA

Ms. Amanda Adams came to Goodwill of Southwestern Pennsylvania's EARN program in May 2019. She was also enrolled in Pittsburgh Career Institute's Respiratory Therapy Licensure program. Ms. Adams is a 29-year-old, single mother of 5 children. In August 2020, she became severely ill and had to take a medical leave from school. However, she returned in February 2021 and utilized everything EARN had to offer to help her succeed.

Ms. Adams borrowed a Chromebook to continue classes remotely. When in-person classes and clinicals began, she was required to travel to several locations. The EARN team worked with the PA Department of Human Services to provide her with transportation assistance. Ms. Adams also successfully finished an externship, which was required for completion of the Respiratory Therapy program. Ms. Adams stayed in close contact with her EARN team, so she could avail herself of any additional support, resources, and information that may be helpful.

In January 2022, Ms. Adams was hired by UPMC in McKeesport, as a Certified Respiratory Therapist. She works full-time, makes $22+ per hour, and receives a full menu of benefits. Ms. Adams has persevered through illness, a pandemic shutting down her educational institution, working with her children on at-home schooling, and navigating an extended process to complete her own education. She has made it past these hurdles, along with many unknown challenges, to achieve her goal of full-time employment as a Respiratory Therapist. As of November 2022, Ms. Adams has successfully maintained her employment for 10 months, and her career continues to flourish.

Are you interested in learning about how Goodwill's free EARN services can help you? Visit https://www.goodwillswpa.org/earn to learn more and to submit an inquiry form.

Free Computer Training Classes

Goodwill of Southwestern PA

Computers play an important role in our world. Goodwill is excited to announce several free ways to learn computer skills. Whether new to technology or looking to brush up, Goodwill offers something for everyone.

If you are new to using computers, the seven-week Computer Basics course is a great environment for learning how to use a mouse, recognize different devices and their parts, send email, and more. Classes are held on Thursdays from 10:00AM – 12:00PM at Goodwill's Workforce Development Center in Lawrenceville. The next two courses are scheduled to begin on January 26th and April 6th.

If you have the basics down and want to improve your computer skills needed in the workplace, check out Goodwill's webinar series. Discover the tools available in the highly popular Microsoft and Google suites. You can also attend webinars on topics such as Budgeting with Excel, Planning with Google Calendar, and Introduction to PivotTables. Most of the workshops are presented in one-hour virtual sessions and only require access to an internet-enabled device. Classes are presented every month and can be attended more than once.

Goodwill also offers individualized pathways for those who learn better one-on-one. These appointments are designed to help you achieve your digital skills goals through scheduled meetings with an instructor. They take place either in-person at the Goodwill Workforce Development Center in Lawrenceville or virtual via Zoom. Spots in this program are limited and on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Finally, if you want to break into the tech industry but aren't sure were to begin, Goodwill offers the CompTIA IT Fundamentals+ eight-week training program. You will learn the foundations of IT areas such as hardware, software, and security, and discover what career paths may be of interest. Once you have completed the course, you can take the CompTIA ITF+ certification exam. The next two courses are scheduled to begin on January 17th and March 28th.

To learn more about any of the programs or to enroll, contact the Goodwill Welcome Center at 1-877-499-3526 or visit www.goodwillswpa.org/tech.

40 Years of Service

Heritage Community Initiatives

For forty years, Heritage Community Initiatives (Heritage) has been honored to serve thousands of under-resourced individuals and families through our distinctive combination of Transportation, Education, and Nutrition programs. These pragmatic programs afford Heritage the opportunity to be uniquely positioned to positively impact the socio-economic mobility of thousands of our neighbors throughout forty communities in Eastern Allegheny County.

The Heritage 4 Kids Early Learning Center (4 Kids) has over a quarter century of experience providing the highest-quality early education and offering more access through programs including Early Head Start, Head Start, and Pre-K Counts. Students have access to nutritious meals and snacks every day, as well as wrap care outside of traditional program hours. All education fees are based on individual family circumstances. If a family is eligible for a subsidy such as CCW (Child Care Works), the 4 Kids staff will assist in the arrangements. Heritage works closely with parents to make sure educational opportunities are available and affordable for all families. 4 Kids also offers bridge funding for income-eligible families through our scholarship program. Every child receives the same excellent care and education, no matter what the family pays. Heritage currently has spots available for immediate enrollment for Pre-K Counts for students ages 3-5 years old. Please call 412-271-3300 for more information.

HOST (Heritage Out of School Time) provides out of school time care to students in grades K-8. HOST educational hours take place before and after school, holiday breaks, and in-service days on which the school districts are closed. While attending HOST, students are provided with an afternoon snack, guided with their homework, and engaged in age-appropriate enrichment activities. Along with 4 Kids, HOST has earned a STAR 4 rating, the highest available, from the Pennsylvania Keystone STARS program. Heritage Education Programs are members of or affiliated with the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC), Pennsylvania Child Care Association (PACCA), and the National After-School Association (NAA). HOST currently has spots available for immediate enrollment for school-aged youth. Please call 412-271-3300 for more information.

Heritage Transportation provides access to individuals across 16 communities along routes in Monroeville, McKeesport, and East Pittsburgh. For only 25 cents a ride, Heritage vans run routes covering neighborhoods, grocery stores, medical care facilities, employment, and more. Transportation is free for children under 5 years old or adults older than 65 through the Blue Card program. With over 1.5 million rides provided, these vans make traveling throughout the region more affordable and accessible. To learn more about Heritage Transportation call 412-351-2200 or visit HeritageServes.org/Transportation to view our routes.

Heritage Nutrition Services designs, prepares, and delivers nutritious meals to at-risk youth and seniors every day. With 60% of those meals being made “from scratch,” they adhere to both State and Federal Guidelines. 100% of the 100,000 meals served each year address food insecurity for those most at-risk. To learn more about the Nutrition program, view sample menus, and find out how to get in touch about your nutrition needs, please visit HeritageServes.org/Nutrition.

New Program Will Test Free & Discount Transit Fares in Allegheny County

Just Harvest

Enrollment is now open for a new 12-month pilot program to test how providing free and discounted transit fares to low-income riders on Pittsburgh Regional Transit (formerly Port Authority of Allegheny County) improves their health and well-being. Any Allegheny County resident who received EBT/SNAP benefits in September 2022 (or someone who is the guardian of a child who received benefits) can enroll their entire household in the program. People can visit discountedfares.alleghenycounty.us to enroll in the program or should go to discountedfares.alleghenycounty.us/support/ to find a list organizations that can help them enroll by phone or in person. Enrollment will continue until the county reaches its target number of 14,000 participating households, which it is hoping to do by early 2023.

The program is being administered by the Allegheny County Dept. of Human Services. It comes after years of advocacy and organizing from transit riders together with organizations like the Pittsburgh Food Policy Council, Just Harvest, UrbanKind, and Pittsburghers for Public Transit to help make costly fares more affordable for those who rely on public transit most.

Who qualifies for the Allegheny County Discounted Fares Pilot Program?
Eligible participants:

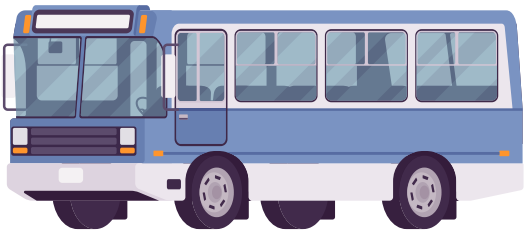
- Currently reside in Allegheny County
- Were receiving SNAP benefits in September 2022 or are the parent of a child who was
- Are between the ages of 18 and 64, or are 65+ and have household members below age 65
- Do not have another household member ages 18 through 64 who is already participating in this pilot

Why is it a pilot rather than a permanent program?
A pilot program is a trial run. Participant experience in this pilot will influence the design of the permanent program. The Allegheny County Dept. of Human Services will use this pilot to understand how local residents may benefit from making public transit more affordable. It will measure the impact on ridership and whether lower fares increase access to jobs, services, and other things residents need.

How does the pilot work?
Participation in the pilot is voluntary but includes agreeing to share info about your household and transit use. All participants will have the opportunity to receive additional compensation for participating in occasional surveys. Eligible participants will be randomly put in one of 3 groups:

1. Free fares: This group will receive unlimited free fares on all PRT trips for 12 months.
2. 50% discount: This group will receive a ConnectCard that reduces the cost of all PRT trips by half for 12 months, and is pre-loaded with $10.
3. No discount: This group will receive a ConnectCard pre-loaded with $10 but will not receive a fare discount.

Anyone interested in enrolling in the pilot or learning more should visit discountedfares.alleghenycounty.us.



Heating Assistance Grant Deadline Reminder

Office of Senator Jim Brewster

With heating costs increasing this winter, State Senator Jim Brewster reminds residents to apply for the Low-Income Home Heating Assistance Program (LIHEAP) before the April 28, 2023 deadline.

“It’s crucial that all families are able to heat their homes this winter,” Brewster said. “I encourage individuals to apply for LIHEAP if they’re worried they won’t be able to pay their energy bills as the weather gets colder.”

LIHEAP is a federal program administered by the Pennsylvania Department of Human Services that helps low-income customers offset the cost of their energy in the form of a cash grant. The cash grant is a one-time payment sent directly to the utility company to be credited on your bill. These grants range from $300 to $1,000 based on household size, income, and fuel type. Households in immediate danger of being without heat can also qualify for crisis grants.

To be eligible for the home heating assistance, an individual homeowner or renter must have an income of $20,385 or less. A family of four must have a household income of $41,625 or less to be eligible.

To apply, customers will need proof of income, social security numbers, dates of birth for all family members, and a recent heating bill.

For more information, please visit www.dhs.pa.gov/liheap or apply online at www.compass.state.pa.us. Interested applicants can also contact one of Senator Brewster’s offices:
